DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Claims 1 and 4 recite "a control unit that counts up a frequency" or "counting up a frequency." The method and meaning of counting a frequency is unclear. At least two possible meanings exist. One is simply determining what the frequency is. The other is sampling the sensor a number of times, determining how many of those times meet a threshold measurement and using that number as a count.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claim 1 recites the limitation "the liquid reducing agent" in last paragraph of claim 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claim 3 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments, see pages 4-7, filed 8/25/2008, with respect to claims 1, 3 and 4 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejection of the claims has been withdrawn.
